

Canaveral Is Renamed for Late President

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Cape Canaveral today bears the name of Cape Kennedy, honoring martyred John F. Kennedy, who designated it as the blastoff point for trips to the moon.

President Lyndon B. Johnson also named this Florida East Coast promontory's vast facilities for rocketry the John F. Kennedy Space Center.

The surprise action Thursday night drew mostly favorable comment here but it posed some problems for businesses which have capitalized on the Cape Canaveral name.

Some officials, including Gov. Farris Bryant of Florida and missile-space program executives, drew heartening inference that Johnson's action means full-speed ahead on the man-in-the-moon flight and other projects President Kennedy pushed.

Johnson announced the changes to a nationwide television and radio audience in his Thanksgiving message.

At Cocoa Beach, closest civilian community to the cape, Bernard Fischer, operator of a restaurant, said "I think changing the name of the center is a wonderful idea."

"I don't know about renaming the cape—it's been Cape Canaveral since it was named anything," he said.

Fred Boyer, map consultant for the Rollins College Library, said that name appears on a 1598 war map. "Canaveral" is a Spanish word meaning cane or reed field.

Man With the Kill Urge Is Recaptured

OGDENSBURG, N.Y. (AP)—Police hunted today for six escaped mental patients, one of whom reportedly once professed love for the Soviet Union and expressed a desire to kill President Kennedy and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Authorities said all six are dangerous. Five of them escaped early today from Rockland State Hospital at Orangeburg, N.Y., and forced an attendant at gunpoint to drive them to New York City. The sixth, Guy Patterson, 33, was described as the assassin-minded escapee.

Patterson, of Pineville, Ky., apparently walked off the grounds of St. Lawrence State Hospital in Ogdensburg about 5 p.m. Thursday.

Patterson escaped Thursday. Police in Plattsburgh, who arrested Patterson last June, said they had been summoned to a rooming house and found Patterson typing letters and shouting threats, not only against the President and the governor, but against other officials and his parents.

Patterson, who gave his home as Pineville, Ky., was "mad at everybody because they wouldn't let him go to Russia," police said. Police reported finding several books on communism in his room.

Oswald called himself a Marxist and had been to Russia. While police hunted Patterson, five other mental patients escaped in a group early today from Rockland State Hospital at Orangeburg, in southeastern New York, and forced an attendant at gunpoint to drive them to New York City.

All were considered dangerous, officials said. Patterson evidently walked off the grounds of St. Lawrence state hospital in this northern New York city at about 5 p.m. Thursday.

Plattsburgh police said he apparently was fluent in many languages. They found letters to the governments of several countries, including Sweden, Poland and Germany. Police did not translate the letters.

Patterson told them he had attended the University of Kentucky. He came to Plattsburgh after trying unsuccessfully to cross the border to Montreal, he said.

Johnson Poses for Portraits

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson posed for his first formal portraits today before three waves of photographers.

The new President, in a dark blue suit, blue shirt and matching tie, with the emblem of the Silver Star on his lapel, sat patiently before the lights as the photographers snapped.

So many photographers turned out for the formal picture-taking session that they had to be sent in three waves, two taking still pictures and the last motion pictures.

Johnson sat at his desk, sometimes writing on a pad of legal-size paper, sometimes fingering his plastic-framed glasses.

On his desk were two telephones, several pictures, one pen set and a few other items. Reporters could not see whose pictures he had on his desk.

The round with photographers was Johnson's first business of the day.

Living Cost Edges Upward in October

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living edged up in an all-time high in October, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today.

But a spokesman said the rise of one-tenth of one per cent was strictly seasonal and gave no indication whatever of an inflationary trend.

The consumer price index reached 107.2, meaning living-cost items that could be bought for $10 in the 1957-59 base period cost $10.72 in October.

Food prices declined 0.5 per cent but were offset by rises of one per cent in transportation costs, 0.1 per cent in housing costs and 0.6 per cent in clothing prices.

The spokesman said the upward trend in living costs apparently continued this month, but that food prices held even. He said the average family's turkey dinner with all the trimmings Thursday cost $4.46. That was 30 cents cheaper than in 1962.

While October's increase was seasonal the bureau spokesman said the predicted increase in November is expected to be somewhat more than seasonal.

House Liberal Revolt Faces Mr. Johnson

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson faces a revolt among a group of House Democratic liberals a revolt that began before the death of President John F. Kennedy.

It is aimed not at the President, but at Congress. It aims at punishment by withdrawal of party seniority privileges, of those Democrats who refuse to support the national party ticket and policies. President Kennedy always declined to take such a drastic step, preferring conciliation and persuasion.

Leading the revolt is Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., one of the party's most articulate and thoughtful strategists in the House.

His target is the "subversives and quislings of the Democratic party," whom he defines as some Southern conservatives.

Bolling takes issue with President Johnson's belief, as expressed in his speech to Congress Wednesday, in "the ability of Congress to act; to meet any crisis; to distill from our differences strong programs of national action."

Bolling said in an interview that Congress is not viable, or able to live, under its present structure.

He said it has not been viable for a long time "but hasn't been observed as such" because the late speaker of the House, Sam Rayburn, held it together and made it work by his personal prestige and influence.

"We staggered along with the appearance of functioning largely because of Rayburn," Bolling said. "It is not the fault of the Republicans. They are a conservative party, by and large. But they are responsible. We—the Democrats—on the other hand, are totally irresponsible."

Bolling's solution? "The minimum is, we start with a demand for at least a minimum of party loyalty. They must at least support the national ticket."

"The maximum would have the effect of altering the power structure. This is the only kind of reform that would have any meaning."

"The faults of Congress are not intrinsic, but lie with the Democratic party. My approach is to maximize the number who behave like Democrats and minimize those who don't."

This can be done, Bolling said, by denying the privileges of party seniority, including committee chairmanships, to Southern Democrats who openly defy and work against the national Democratic ticket.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson will appoint a commission to investigate President Kennedy's assassination and report to the nation, Rep. Hale Boggs told the House today.

Boggs, of Louisiana, assistant Democratic leader, said he had assurances the President would name the commission and would include in its membership representatives and senators.

Boggs spoke after several members took the floor to urge congressional action for an investigation.

Boggs earlier had proposed a congressional investigation by a special committee. The presidential commission will serve this purpose, he said.

It was understood the commission will assemble the data uncovered by investigations, such as the one the FBI and Secret Service were ordered to conduct, make whatever investigations on its own it considers necessary and issue a definite report.

Ed Kennedy, AP Writer, Dies at 58

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP)—Edward Kennedy, former World War II Associated Press correspondent who first reported the German surrender in 1945, died today of injuries suffered in an auto accident. He was 58.

Kennedy, associate editor of the Monterey Peninsula Herald, suffered multiple fractures early Sunday morning when struck down by a car while he was walking home, officers said.

The driver of the sports car that allegedly struck Kennedy was identified as Mrs. Alice Kathleen O'Connell Tornell, 24, of Monterey.

The woman was not cited, police said. Kennedy died around 4 a.m., according to James Costello, Monterey Herald city editor.

Kennedy left The Associated Press shortly after armistice was signed in Europe, and joined the Santa Barbara News-Press in Santa Barbara, Calif.

He joined the Monterey Peninsula Herald later as an associate editor, the post he held at the time of his death.

Kennedy is survived by a daughter, Julia Kennedy, of Washington, D.C.

Kennedy's flash that the Germans had surrendered arrived in AP's New York headquarters early in the morning of May 7, 1945. As a precaution this was held back from the wires for eight minutes until corroborative detail poured in. Then The AP went ahead with the war's biggest story.

Some hours later military headquarters in Paris shut down AP's operations there.

What happened was that the Allies had agreed to withhold news of the surrender for 24 hours to permit simultaneous release along with reports of the German surrender to the Russians.

The Germans had announced the surrender over the Flensburg radio and Kennedy contended this invalidated the embargo. He warned the press section of Supreme Allied Headquarters that he intended to send his story.

Kennedy was both praised and condemned for getting out confirmation of the news which the Germans already had broadcast. Allied headquarters discredited him as a war correspondent but 14 months later it was announced that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had reviewed the case and had removed any bar to Kennedy's re-accreditation.

Rehearsing Asked By Farmer Weir

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—James Weir, Dermott farmer whose 994-acre farm was sold at government auction to satisfy liens for overplanting of rice allotments, has petitioned federal District Court at Little Rock for a rehearsing on the sale.

Judge J. Smith Henley, who on Nov. 14 rejected a petition by Weir to have the sale set aside, took the latest request under advisement.

Mac Percy Spencer, Hope Negro, was killed Nov. 27 and another man was slightly injured when a natural gas pipeline exploded in Lafayette County near Lewisville. The injured man was J. L. Baker, also of Hope, who suffered cuts and bruises.

A spokesman for the Louisiana Nevada Transit Co. said the men were repairing a leak in the line. Cause of the explosion was not determined.

Fatality Toll About Same as Last Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Thanksgiving weekend moved through its second day Friday with traffic fatalities running about the same as a normal nonholiday weekend.

The fatality toll, which began at 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday, reached 146. On nonholiday weekends this year 100 persons have died daily in traffic.

The National Safety Council made no estimate of the number of traffic deaths. A spokesman said the Thanksgiving holiday has less highway travel than most holiday weekends.

An Associated Press survey from 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 13, to midnight Sunday, Nov. 17, showed 477 traffic deaths. The survey was made for a comparison with the Thanksgiving weekend.

A Thanksgiving fatality record was established last year when 514 persons died on the nation's highways and roads. It was the highest for Thanksgiving since the Associated Press began counting in 1958. The lowest toll for a Thanksgiving four-day weekend was 442 in 1960.

Crowd Pours Into the White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A large crowd defied heavy rain today and lined up to tour the public rooms of the White House, reopened for the first time since President John F. Kennedy was assassinated a week ago.

White House police described the crowd as heavy, but had no estimate of its number.

Normally, the public rooms are open for tours from 10 a.m. until noon. But police said the hours might be extended if today's turnout is extremely heavy.

The White House said the public rooms were reopened today at the request of Jacqueline Kennedy, widow of the slain President.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson told the Joint Chiefs of Staff today that he wants "a dollar's value for every dollar spent" on national defense.

In his first meeting with the military high command as commander in chief, Johnson emphasized the insistence on economy which he mentioned in his address to a joint session of Congress Wednesday, the White House said.

The conference with the joint chiefs headed a long list of appointments on Johnson's first full day of uninterrupted work in his White House office, aimed at his newly declared goal of "a new American greatness."

The new President set that target for his administration Thursday night in his Thanksgiving

LITTLE MOTHER HAS PROBLEMS

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: How can I get my mother and brothers and sisters to be orderly? I am the housekeeper of the family. It is my chore to wash the breakfast and lunch dishes, fix dinner and clean house. I like to see things in their place so that we won't be ashamed when friends drop in but this is practically impossible where my family is concerned, especially my mother. I'm forever picking up after her.

Am I wrong in asking her to recognize the fact that the work of keeping our home neat and clean falls on me?

Sometimes, to lessen my chores, the boy next door will come over and help me. I've known him ever since I was knee-high to a grasshopper and we get along very well. After work is done we'll play records or just sit and talk. My mother thinks I'm making a spectacle of myself by being so obvious. To me this kid is just somebody to talk to. Am I wrong in seeing him? My mother's remarks hurt, they make me feel cheap.

Sixteen-year-old
Dear Helen: Three cheers for you and your willingness to help around the house, and four cheers for you for your neatness and concern for a tidy home!
If you let it, neatness can become a fetish, so beware of overconcentration on order. Little (and not so little) brothers and sisters don't always come with built-in tidiness. They seem by nature to prefer disorder. So be realistic, especially about your mother. Some people have a gift for neatness; others are born house-wreckers and there is nothing much you can do about it. I knew a couple, two of the sweetest, kindest people, whose home looked as if they were just moving out. You might print that proverb, "Order is Heaven's first Law" on a card and stick in your mother's bedroom mirror. She may take the hint.

As for you and the boy next door: Give her opinion a little honest thought before you brand it as "all wrong." She may see something in your manner that you aren't aware of, and you can bet your life that she knows more about men than you do at this stage of your life. If you search your soul and try to analyze your behavior as others might see it, you will know whether you are "making a spectacle" of yourself. If you aren't, the boy next door is a perfectly natural friend for you. Be a lady always, and you can have a hundred male friends without risking criticism of your conduct.

Dear Helen: Is it permissible to have the men who are members of the bridal party usher the guests into the church at a wedding? —Dubious
Dear Dubious: There is no problem because ushers are automatically members of the wedding party.

Dear Helen: What should a woman do when, after being the best wife she knows how, her husband starts staying out late, drinking and chasing other girls? Five of the seven years of my married life have been spent wondering where my wandering husband was at night. I love him! Please print this for he reads your column and maybe it will help bring him back. — Given Up

Dear Given Up: Since he's behaving like an irresponsible adolescent, treat him like one. Tell him, "This is it. I'm doing my part, you've got to do yours. Snap out of this soporific moonlighting. I'll not share you with anyone. Concentrate on me from now on. Otherwise it's goodbye for keeps."

If you say this and mean it, he will not only accept your ultimatum but find new cause to love you for your strength of character. If he doesn't, he's not worth loving. See your lawyer.

THESE WIVES FIND CAUSE FOR THANKSGIVING

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: I hope you print this on Thanksgiving Day.

My wonderful husband has made it possible for me to spend my life at home doing whatever pleases me; such as reading, singing, sewing. This freedom to make use of my talents led me to help others develop their talents.
My reward comes in their quiet "Thank you," grateful smile or warm handclasp. The most welcome reward of all is their friendship. Each obstacle (I've helped them with their problems too) we encounter brings its challenge and, when victory comes, a deeper and growing appreciation of one another.

I write of all this in the hope that it will inspire unhappy readers with time on their hands to do for others and, in the doing, find peace of mind. I work on the theory that Mother must be the hub of the wheel around which the home revolves for she alone is the source of strength in developing healthy, happy, God-loving children.

But I also encourage the family to give Father their loving support as a reward for his labors. These shared experiences of trials and pleasures with friends and family bring us close together and at the same time help us to go forward as useful citizens to build the America we love. —Devoted Reader, Camas, Wash.

Dear Reader: Yours is the principle upon which the pilgrims, whose day of Thanksgiving this is, lived. If more of us practiced it today, we would really have a United States of America.

Dear Helen: Divorce may be a last resort but there are instances when it is the only answer. I was just 15 when my first husband and I married. He was so jealous I couldn't go to my mother's without being put through the third degree. Every time we quarreled, which was often, he beat me, even when I was pregnant.

After five years of hell I divorced him. Now I am married again, this time to a fine man whose experience was similar to mine — his wife and my husband being two of a kind. The court gave him custody of their four children; the sweetest kids who love and obey me. I feel so good when they call me "Mom" for it shows I have their confidence and affection. Their father feels equally happy when my youngsters call him "Dad." They are not "his" or "my" children but "ours." We're so much in love that every day is a fun day. For this I am very thankful. —Happy Homemaker.

Dear Helen: Two letters recently published in your column interested me very much; one from the put-upon woman who signed herself P.M., the other from a young man who blamed "Jezebel" for his downfall. They should realize that the rain falls on the just and unjust alike. But of this, both P. M. and the boy can be sure, God promised that our tribulations will not be greater than we can bear. My husband has been blind many years but God gives me daily strength to meet this problem. May I commend you on your fine column! —A Believer

Dear Believer: Thank you for your letter. Have you ever read "The Prayers of Brother Lawrence"? If not pick up a copy at a religious bookstore or write the publisher, Fleming Revell Co., New York, for one. Brother Lawrence was a 16th century monk consigned to work for which he thought he had no talent — that of buying

Baptists Tribute Late President

HOUSTON (AP) — The president of the 10-million member Southern Baptist Convention said Monday that President Kennedy "gave his life for his country."

Dr. K. Owen White, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Houston, made the statement while religious leaders in Houston paid tribute to the late President.

While the law and order are divinely ordained, Dr. White said, there is a "gathering indication of lawlessness... lack ship, for the office, regardless of respect not only for law, but for men in positions of leadership of the man who fills it."

Dr. White said, "Americans can differ strongly, yet without bitterness or hatred and need to remember the burdens, heartaches and loneliness of leadership."

Woman, Children Escape Flames

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. S. Rivera, 27, tossed her five children from the second-story window of a burning Brooklyn tenement into the arms of a passerby Thursday night. Then she jumped.

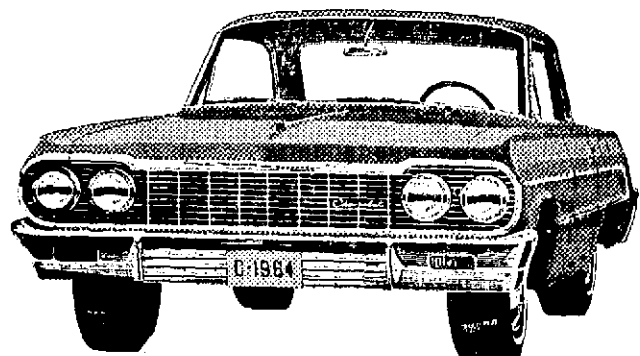

The unidentified hero vanished. The children range in age from 6 months to 11 years. They were treated at a hospital and released. Mrs. Rivera escaped with cuts and bruises.

wine and cooking. Instead of hating the work he blessed it and saw in all the tribulations which beset him God-given opportunities to develop as a human being. He practiced the presence of God.

200,000 in Visit to JFK's Grave

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 200,000 Americans put aside their Thanksgiving dinners for a while and made their way on a bleak and gray day up a hill to a grave.

Four little sisters picked chrysanthemums from their grandmother's garden and dropped them by the grave.

Mrs. Kennedy came once again and prayed.

Thanksgiving Day became a day of homage to John F. Kennedy in Arlington National Cemetery.

Traffic slowed and jammed as the thousands drove toward the cemetery overlooking the Potomac River. Many parked their cars and began to walk to the cemetery.

They carried faded roses and ferns, bought in stores the day before.

Silently, they paid their respects at the picket fence that surrounds the drive and the eternal light burning over the body of the president, who was assassinated a week ago today.

Mrs. Kennedy made her fifth trip to the grave since the burial Monday. Dressed in black, she knelt, crossed herself, and moved her lips in silent prayer.

Later she flew to Cape Cod

Venezuela Still Plans Election

An AP News Analysis

Associated Press Staff Writer

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Despite spectacular last-minute exploits, pro-Communist terrorists in Venezuela appear to have lost their fight to force the army to call off Sunday's presidential elections.

There are increasing signs for a Thanksgiving reunion with the Kennedy family.

Others joined the pilgrimage to the President's grave, including his brother, Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts, and his sister, Mrs. Peter Lawford.

While thousands walked to the grave, thousands of others had to leave, turned away by guards who told them they would never get in to see the grave before the day was done.

that the extremist Armed Forces of National Liberation (FALN) have lost both their physical punch and their appeal to urban masses.

Chances are considered good that the elections will go off with a minimum of trouble.

Apparently indifferent to the terrorists, some 15,000 people attended a political rally this week in the same Caracas square where a few days before guerrilla snipers staged a spectacular battle and 24 persons were killed.

Noisy political caravans roam the capital streets each night without incident. President Romulo Betancourt is barred by the constitution from succeeding himself, but Raul Leoni, the candidate of Betancourt's Democratic Action party, is expected to defeat six opponents.

The pro-Castro FALN had hoped that its campaign of terrorism would cause the army to oust Betancourt and cancel the elections. The Communists figured this would solidify the anti-military opposition behind them.

The FALN is believed to have been first weakened by the Cuban missile crisis in October 1962, which revealed Cuba as just another Iron Curtain satellite.

In later months there was a steady improvement in the police campaign against the hit-and-run terrorists. The FALN attacks began deteriorating.

This week the FALN returned to propaganda blows, attempts to capture world headlines and damage the Betancourt government's reputation at home and abroad.

A U.S. Army officer was kidnapped Wednesday. Thursday five men and a woman hijacked a Venezuelan airliner and forced the pilot to fly to Trinidad. No one was harmed. Authorities handed the hijackers over to Venezuelan officials.

They were flown back to Caracas today for trial.

Hope Closes Season With 11-1 Record

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star Sports Writer

The jinx is broken. Wednesday night the Bobcats whipped Nashville by a rather sound 42-13 and ended a fifteen year precedent that the home town always loses in this traditional match.

This was the final game for thirteen seniors, and they hardly could have had a better season. They had an 11-1 record, winning eleven straight games, falling only to third ranked Texarkana, a AAA school that tied the state champs. The Bobcats were 4AA crown holders with a 6-0, and top ranked AA team in the state.

No one could find anything to say that wasn't praise for the seniors, and the whole Bobcat team as well. Coach Mitchell remarked, "It's a wonderful way for a great group of boys to end a great season."

Head Coach Ben Burton said, "I thought we went out in a blaze of glory. The seniors had a great year. The people of Hope can be proud of them, because they are good boys as well as fine athletes." He also praised the HHS student body for the fine support that the team received.

Coach Francis and Coach Ballard also praised the seniors. Coach Francis remarked that he thought this was the best game that the Cats had played this year. Though "everyone did real well," Coach Ballard singled out Dan Jones and Ricky Butler for their outstanding work. Harry Ray McMahan was also pointed out by the coaches as playing a "tremendous" game.

Before the game, the senior boys were honored. They are: Mac McLarty, Mutt Wassell, Richard McDowell, Dane Jones, Ricky Butler, Jimmy Walker, John Wayne Hughes, George Wright, Jack Caldwell, James Marcum, Truett King, Joe Purvis, and Larry Thrash. Trainer George Jones is also a senior.

During the Half the band members and cheerleaders who were performing for the last time were also recognized. And, although they received no recognition at the game, seniors Charlie Walker, Johnny Honeycutt, and Charles Cochran have done a fine job in the press box in their job behind the scenes.

Since most people came out to see the football game, however, it is prudent to devote at least a little space to it.

The Bobcats were really fired up about this game, and they started things off with a bang, scoring twice in the first eight minutes of play.

After the ball had already changed hands once, the Scrappers were deep in their own territory, so they decided to quick-kick on third down. But Dan Jones came roaring into the backfield to block the kick before anyone knew exactly what happened. He immediately scooped up the ball and headed 27 yards in for the tally. Buddy Jordan added the point, and Hope right away had a 7-0 lead.

On the first Nashville play from scrimmage, Bratton rolled out right and spotted his receiver downfield. He got the pass away, but Dan Jones smartly stepped in between the ball and the target, and rumbled fifteen yards down to the Scrapper 20. Three runs by McLarty moved them in to the 5, and McDowell boomed across from there. Jordan got his second of six straight extra points for the night, and the Cats bounded into a 14-0 advantage.

The Scrappers had two plays that they could depend on all night long, power sweep left and Carozza up the middle. Late in the First Quarter they stated putting these to good use. By the Second Quarter they were threatening on the Hope 13. Naturally they called on Vinson for his sweep, but this time he had the door slammed in his face but good.

Hope punted out when they couldn't move, and the Scrappers kicked back. On the next play, Johnny Samuels had his number called, and it turned out to be the perfect combination. He went right through the middle, slipping through the grasp of at least five defenders, and out running the last man with a terrific burst of speed. The 54-yard TD run was followed by Jordan's sure toe, and the Half came to a close with the Cats on the board 21-0 ahead of the Scrappers.

The next Cat prowl was set up by the kickoff return of Samuels, who streaked 47 yards to the Nashville 37. With 3 & 14 on the Scrapper 29, McLarty came up with the magic formula, a screen pass to Richard McDowell, who did make a great run in, and the Cats went up on the scoreboard again, 28-0.

The pigskin changed hands again, and when Hope punted out to Nashville, Mike Bratton was waiting on the 50. Using his blockers to good advantage, he went all the way for the tally. A try for the extra point by running failed, and the Scrappers edged up to 28-6.

Getting the kick on their own 43, the Cats began to dive a gain. Runs by McDowell moved them in to the 1, where McLarty exercised the option and went over himself. Jordan's PAT was good, and the Quarter ended 35-6. This made McLarty leading scorer in the District.

Immediately after the teams changed directions, Gary Poole snatched a Scrapper fumble on the 40. A pass from Jordan to Thrash put the Cats within striking distance at the 13, and two

Reddies Beat Ouachita, to Share Crown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
DETROIT (AP)—

There's a two-seater in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference football throne room this year. Arkansas A&M climbed into one spot more than a week ago, and Henderson lashed Ouachita 28-13 Thursday to get the other.

The Reddies bounced Ouachita in a Thanksgiving Day renewal of their bitter rivalry after a 12-year lapse, and 5,500 turned out for the battle.

Henderson's bruising ground attack outrushed the Tigers 285 to 143, with Troy Tyson carrying 26 times for more than 100 yards for Henderson.

The Reddies scored first, marching 51 yards. Fullback Terry Thurman got the last three on the second play of the second quarter and Tyson kicked the first of four successful extra points.

Charley Williams broke from scrimmage and galloped 57 yards for Ouachita and Robert McGlothlin's extra point kick tied it 7-7 in the second quarter.

Henderson went out in front to stay on a 66-yard drive capped by Thurman's one-yard scoring dive with 1:50 left in the first half.

Quarterback Larry Walker passed to end Mike Steelman on a 43-yard play for a Henderson touchdown with 8:15 to go in the third quarter.

Williams took a pass from plays later Jordan connected on another aerial to Ingram who was calmly waiting in the end zone.

A fifteen yard penalty and runs by McAllister provided for the only other Nashville score, on a two yard plunge by McAllister himself Ray ran the point after, and the score was 42-13.

Individual yardage: Samuels, 5-54; McLarty, 6-33; McDowell, 6-27; McNatt, 3-23; Waller, 2-15; Moses, 2-6; Strong, 3-6; High, 1-5; Burnett, 1-1; B. Samuels, 1-0; Ingram, 3-(-2).

Scoring plays: run-Jones, 27 yds; run-McDowell, 5 yds; run-Samuels, 54 yds; pass-McLarty to McDowell, 27 yds; run-McLarty, 13 yds; pass-Jordan to Ingram, 8 yds.

Green Bay Is Tied by Detroit

By BERNIE KENNEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP)—Mighty Green Bay needs help from three other Western Division clubs in order to get a crack at its third National Football League championship.

Thursday, the Packers slipped a full game behind Chicago, the division leader, when the Detroit Lions tied them in the waning seconds 13-13 in their annual Thanksgiving Day battle.

Compounding Green Bay's problems is an injury suffered by linebacker Ray Nitschke. He said he broke a bone in his right forearm in the fourth quarter of the game and won't see any more action this season.

"Win or tie, we still have to depend on someone else to beat Chicago," said Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi.

The Packers, now 9-2-1, meet Los Angeles and San Francisco in their final two games. Chicago, at 9-1-1, faces Minnesota, Frisco and Detroit on its home field.

The Bears take on the Vikings Sunday. In other NFL games Baltimore is at Washington, Cleveland at St. Louis, Los Angeles at San Francisco, New York at Dallas and Philadelphia at Pittsburgh.

The Packers' latest jolt came with 16 seconds remaining in Thursday's game. Detroit fullback Nick Pietrosante leaped into the end zone from less than a yard out and Wayne Walker added the extra point that tied the score.

Walker also booted two first-half field goals.

Practically all of the action was crammed into the game's final 10 minutes as the Packers went ahead 13-6 on a seven-yard pass from Bart Starr to Ron Kramer to end a 61-yard drive.

The Lions roared back as Earl Morrall directed the final scoring drive. A pass interference penalty against Green Bay's Jesse Whitenton gave the Lions the ball on the two, but they needed four cracks at the line to score after a penalty put the ball back on the seven.

High Schools Finish Out Schedules

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Old Man Mud, with an assist from Mr. Rain, had a hand in most of the high school football played Thanksgiving Day in Arkansas.

Yards and points did not come easily.

Camden was a heavy underdog against El Dorado, but lost by only 7-0 at Camden.

The big blow came on the opening kickoff. Bobby Sims hauled it in at the El Dorado 21 and set sail on a splattering 79-yard gallop for the touchdown. James Barnes added the extra point, and it was mostly defense the rest of the way.

At halftime, El Dorado had minus four yards total offense and Camden had minus 19 yards.

Little Rock Central and Little Rock Hall slugged to a scoreless tie in their annual battle in Little Rock.

The Tigers missed on a field goal kick by George Calhoun by inches in the last quarter, but Hall had earlier missed on a field goal try and two other scoring opportunities.

Ann Kenyon: Surgeon

By Adeline McElfresh

(Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn. © 1960 Adeline McElfresh)

XXVIII

"You don't have to explain to me or to anyone, Ann." His tone was level, drawing her eyes to his. "It's none of their business—or mine, although I'd like to think it's more mine than theirs because you're both friends of mine and I don't intend to see you smeared because you're in love with the guy. Whether he knows it or not, Pete McDonnal is in love with you."

Ann stared at him. "Oh, but—Dave, he isn't."

"I suppose next you'll say there's Helen." And when she didn't say anything, "Pete loves this hospital, Ann—it's part of him, and Helen is a part of the hospital, if you want a theory."

"They're engaged, aren't they?"

"Everybody says they are. Personally, I think it's wishful thinking. But, it's my diagnosis, Ann, that the whole thing is something they more or less drifted into. Helen because she felt the need to turn to someone besides Doc Lyle."

"You sound as if she needed psychiatric help."

"Doc Lyle affects people that way when it's to his advantage," Dave said and Ann thought of Nora Roberts. "Actually, I think she has been getting it, in a way. Ann, I think she is listening to Pete and Dr. Hank and the talk about the hospital that is going around town; I think she is—well, storing it up and letting it ferment although she may not be aware of it yet. Doc Lyle is afraid of exactly that. He sees the same symptoms I see—only perhaps more of them than I do."

"You're one of those symptoms, Ann—maybe the most important. I can remember when Helen would no more have put you on the payroll without consulting Doc Lyle than she would have descended to empty a patient's bedpan. While we're theorizing, I don't think Helen expected Pete to fall in love with you."

Ann shook her head. "He isn't in love with me, Dave," she repeated.

"Okay." Goodnaturedly. "So he isn't." He stood for a moment before he said, "Finish those things if you must, but then you go home, drink a glass of warm milk and go to bed. That's doctor's orders, Dr. Kenyon. Follow them and you'll be surprised how much better the world will look in the morning."

It was a long time afterward that she remembered she hadn't denied being in love with Peter McDonnal.

The board meeting, at which Ann had promised Peter to back up his plea for a blood bank, already was in session when she returned from a house call. Wishing she hadn't been late because she would have to run the gamut of all their eyes at once, she hurried along the corridor past the deserted emergency and X-ray rooms and was almost to her office where she intended to leave her bag before going into the meeting room, when she met Cass Llewellyn.

"The mountains are already in labor, Doctor," was the nurse's greeting. "I suppose another ridiculous mouse will be brought forth."

Despite the nibbling unease Ann laughed. "Let's hope not this time. Peter is asking for a blood bank."

"Well, where there's life, there's hope, it says here. At least Kitty Linsen is here." Mrs. Linsen, Ann knew, was Isabel Taylor's sister, on whom Peter was depending for an assist. Ann went on to her office thinking that it wouldn't matter whether Mrs. Linsen approved the blood bank or not. It wouldn't matter how much of a majority the approval carried as long as Helen Leddie asked Dr. Lyle. What was the matter with Dr. Lyle anyhow? He knew how desperately Leddie Memorial needed a blood bank, an improved medical records library, a central supply setup and just because he took his patients to City Hospital in Howell where they had all those things and more—Realizing she was thinking like Dave Clyde, she turned off her anger at the meeting-room door.

"Here is Dr. Kenyon now," Peter said as she opened it.

Ann smiled apologetically and with a confidence she was far from feeling. "I'm sorry to be late, but I had an emergency house call."

"We've been talking about that accident the other night, Ann," Peter briefed her. "About the inconvenience and danger under such circumstances of having to wait for donors to come to the hospital, of having to delay surgery until blood is withdrawn from the donor." He paused; then, "Will you tell us about the delay in surgery, Ann?"

CHAPTER XXIX

Ann began, "The patient, Mr. Garner, was in shock and losing blood in an internal hemorrhage when he was brought to the hospital. It was imperative that the bleeding point be found and ligated at once—and that he have an immediate transfusion." She let her gaze move about the room, Helen Leddie's face, Mrs. Linsen's, Mr. Scott's, others to whom she didn't connect names. "Thanks to Dr. Hank, Dr. McDonnal and Dr. Clyde the hospital has an emergency plan. A donor of each blood type was on the way to the hospital before the blood analysis revealed that the patient was type A and as soon as that was determined other donors of type A blood were summoned—but," and she paused again, letting her eyes single out Mrs. Linsen's for only an infinitesimal span before she went on, "we still had to wait in surgery until 500 c.c.'s could be taken from that first donor."

"How is he now?" One of the men Ann didn't recognize asked the question.

"Doing very well, fortunately."

"Would the several minutes you had to wait in the operating room have made a difference?" Ann told him honestly, "It could have."

"But it did not?"

A tiny lance of unease stirred behind Ann's sternum. "In this case perhaps not. However as I say it could have—it may have. He did not respond to any satisfactory degree until he had received the second transfusion. Which," she forestalled the question she saw spring into the challenging eyes, "could not be given during the operation because there was no more blood available until the other donors of that particular type arrived at the hospital."

"Quite a bit different from that hospital back east, isn't it, Doctor?" Mr. Scott asked.

Ann agreed that it was.

The man who had been questioning her took it up again, so quickly that Ann wondered if Mr. Scott were in Peter's camp along with Mrs. Linsen. "By your own admission, Dr. Kenyon, the man is doing all right. Maybe our blood-donor system does seem antiquated to you and Dr. McDonnal, but it serves our purpose and—"

"Does it?" Ann challenged.

"I know how you look at it, Doctor. You're from New York," as if all of New York were New York City and therefore, to him, awesome. "We're probably pretty small persimmons, to your way of thinking. But we're not, Dr. Kenyon. We've got our ways of doing things."

Peter's ruddy face darkened as he interrupted, "It isn't just this emergency, Les! It's all those in the past, and more important, the ones we shall inevitably face in the future. We need a lot of other things too, if we are to become accredited and hold our heads up in the hospital world."

Peter was losing his temper, and he hadn't meant to, Ann knew. He shouldn't, it wouldn't help, anger unleashed seldom did. "But especially we need a blood supply that is immediately available! Patients undergoing routine surgery frequently need transfusions, sometimes you even have to give one in o.b. and if you think that doesn't put the fear into a doctor, a sudden, unexpected hemorrhage after a baby is born—"

He was reasoning with them now, especially with the man he called Les (who Ann realized was Lester Bookley who headed one of the departments at Leddie Chemicals, Inc.) The others, or most of them anyhow, approved.

Helen Leddie seemed interested; her lovely face was not at all the carefully non-committal blank mask that, even after all that Dave had said, Ann had expected it to be. And yet, when Helen would tell Dr. Lyle about tonight's meeting, and Dr. Lyle would remind her of the splendid facilities at the hospital in Howell from which Leddie Memorial could request whole blood at any time its own donor program was not ample.

Peter was saying, "Sure, I know it's not the first time I've bumped heads together trying to get that blood bank. It won't be the last. I promise you that."

I guess I thought Ann might swing it, Rocky Head General Hospital, where she was a surgery resident and later on the staff, is among the best in the country, and—"

"That," Les Bookley interrupted caustically, "is one thing that bothers me. Don't you think it's kind of funny that Dr. Kenyon would leave a hospital like that to come here? Maybe there is something to all the talk that's going around town."

Negro Fatally Shot in Tavern

MARKED TREE, Ark. (AP)

David Armstrong, 18, Negro, was fatally shot in a Marked Tree tavern Monday night and police held another Negro who told Sheriff Ray Holmes it was an accident.

Holmes said T. C. Barnes, 31, was held without charge. Both Barnes and Armstrong lived at Marked Tree.

Holmes quoted Barnes as saying some other people in the tavern were showing off a shotgun and he went into the back room to get his 12 gauge shotgun. When he came through the door someone hit the barrel and it discharged Barnes told Holmes.

Hockey Goalie Is an Acrobat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The hockey goalie is an acrobat who sometimes feels like a pin cushion. He's supported by two steel blades with nerves to match but seldom well enough by his teammates—at least not well enough to suit him.

Chicago's Glenn Hall feels the job's worthwhile today. But there are four National League rivals who might like to argue the point.

The Black Hawks beat Toronto's defending champions 2-0 Thursday night on Hall's 30-save shutout. Chicago now has won six straight, pulled 10 points ahead in the standings and knocked the Maple Leafs a point back of Montreal into third place.

Meanwhile Montreal extended Detroit's winless streak to five games 7-3 and Boston turned back New York 5-3 for the first time this season and only the fifth time in the past 18 encounters.

Yerger Tigers End Season With Win
Under cloudy skies, drizzling rain, and a very muddy, slippery playing field, the Yerger Tigers won their last game of the season over the McRae Tigers of Prescott, Arkansas 20-14.

The Tiger's record for the season is 3 wins-2 ties-6 losses.

This Reporter wishes to commend Coach R. E. Nevels and Assistant Coach George Strouther for a job well done.

For his first year with the Tigers, Coach and the Tigers show promise. All they need is more encouragement from us.

We didn't give the team as much support as we should have, this season, but let us not be guilty of this sin of mission again.

Our school, in all areas, is just what we make it. Let us stop leaving it all up to the teachers.

TV Has to Re-arrange Some Shows

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's fine coverage of a national tragedy continued through the final chapter Monday bringing to mourning Americans an intimate picture of the funeral services for their dead leader.

It was a day of solemn beauty and grandeur with a measured formality that somehow was soothing and comforting after the hectic days that preceded it.

Television cameras were in front rows during all the ceremonies, at the Capitol, the church, and at Arlington National Cemetery so that millions of distant Americans were able to see more than the people actually on the scene.

Later, we even were privileged to look into President Johnson's reception for the foreign heads of states and other visiting dignitaries.

The three networks spent the early evening showing edited versions of the day's ceremonies. CBS stayed with recapitulations of the news all evening. But NBC and ABC, as if to underline the fact that John F. Kennedy now belongs to history, turned their attention to President Lyndon B. Johnson. Both showed biographical programs, hastily patched together but interesting just the same.

Regular programming was resumed this morning, but there will be a number of switches and postponements of scheduled shows in the next few days.

While news staffs of the three major networks worked around the clock on the Kennedy story.

Texas Comes From Behind for Victory

The phone jangled. Texas Coach Darrell Royal picked it up.

"Was it too much for you to watch all the time?" he asked. "Well, Nellie, I wouldn't have watched it either if I hadn't had to."

The caller was the wife of John Connally, talking from the 10th floor where her husband is recuperating from his bullet wounds.

Mr. Connally was calling to offer the governor's congratulations to the Cotton Bowl bound Texas team, which had just won its first perfect season in 41 years and virtually clinched the national championship.

Only minutes had elapsed since the lukewarm Longhorns had uprooted Texas A&M 15-13, Duke Carlisle cracking over the top with 1:19 remaining to close out a drive that kept its momentum despite a pass interception.

Texas already had clinched a Cotton Bowl berth, but two other bowl spots were filled on a beefy Thanksgiving Day program. Illinois' grabbing its first Rose Bowl assignment in 13 years and North Carolina accepted a Gator Bowl offer.

The 10th won the Big Ten Conference title and the bowl berth with a deceptive defensive formation revolving around Dick Bickas that helped throttle

Michigan State 13-0. The Tai Heels edged Duke 16-14 on a 42-yard field goal by Max Chapman with 33 seconds remaining.

Five major college teams now have firm bowl commitments—Texas, Illinois, North Carolina, Nebraska and LSU. Nebraska previously nailed an Orange Bowl spot and LSU a place in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

Other bowl assignments will come from Saturday games, with most interest centering on the West Coast Rose Bowl situation. Two games hold the key—Washington State at Washington and UCLA at Southern California. A league vote will decide the entry.

Also spotlighted on Saturday's schedule is the 80th meeting of Harvard and Yale. In other games bearing on bowl bids, Auburn is at Alabama, Georgia Tech at Georgia, Mississippi at Mississippi State and Pittsburgh at Miami, Fla., for a region game.

One other game Thursday may have had bowl ramifications. Syracuse, looking for a bid, finished an 8-2 campaign by defeating Notre Dame 14-7.

In all, four conference crowns were wrapped up during the day. Illinois grabbed the Big Ten. Texas won the Southwest. North Carolina tied North Carolina State in the Atlantic Coast and Virginia Tech nailed the Southern title by walling off VMI 35-20.

In other games, West Virginia blasted Furman 34-7, Minnesota blanked Wisconsin 14-0, Cornell defeated Penn 17-3, Maryland whipped Virginia 21-6, Columbia beat Rutgers 35-23, Clemson edged South Carolina 24-20, William & Mary edged Richmond 29-6 and Miami of Ohio upped Cincinnati 21-19.

Poll Rates Illinois the Top Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Northern Illinois, carried to a perfect 9-0 season on the all-time record passing of George Bork, was chosen today the best small college football team in the country for 1963.

The Huskies from DeKalb, Ill., overtook Delaware, another unbeaten-untied team, and won by a narrow margin in The Associated Press' final poll.

Each of the teams received three first-place votes from a special panel of seven sports writers and broadcasters but Northern Illinois collected a total of 63 points to 53 for Delaware. Points are awarded on a 15-9-4-etc. basis.

The other first-place vote went to Southwest Texas and it was good enough to give that team ninth place.

Wittenberg was third in the final standings, followed by Massachusetts, St. John's of Minnesota, South Dakota State, Florida A&M, Abilene Christian, Southwest Texas and McNeese State of Lake Charles, La.

Northern Illinois closed out its season Nov. 16 and accepted a bid to play in the Mineral Springs Bowl at Excelsior, Mo. Delaware's final game with Bucknell last week-end was cancelled out of sympathy to the late President Kennedy.

Northern Illinois' Bork broke every single season and career record in the college books. This year alone, he completed 244 passes in 374 attempts for 3,077 yards and 32 touchdowns.

Peters Named Baseball's Best Rookie

BOSTON (AP) — Persistent Gary Peters, the left-hander who began to feel like a yo-yo between the minors and the Chicago White Sox, was named the American League Rookie of the Year for 1963 today, beating out teammate Pete Ward.

The 26-year-old Peters received 10 of the 20 votes cast by the judges — the Baseball Writers Association of America. Third baseman Ward of the White Sox received six votes. Minnesota Twins center fielder Jimmie Hall drew the other four.

Peters, the first White Sox rookie winner in half a dozen years, wouldn't have drawn a single vote had the balloting been conducted at mid-season. He had won only five games in his fifth attempt to stick with Chicago.

But Peters, a 200 pound and total offense. His team led the small colleges in passing offense with an average of 349.3 yards gained a game.

The Top Ten, with season records and points:

Northern Illinois 9-0-0
Delaware 8-0-0
Wittenberg 8-0-1
Massachusetts 7-0-1
St. John's (Minn.) 8-0-0
S. Dakota State 7-1-0
Florida A&M 7-1-0
Abilene Christian 7-1-0
Southwest Texas 10-0-0
McNeese State 8-0-0

Picking the Weekend Pro Winners

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — St. Louis and Cleveland, two of the three teams tied for the Eastern Conference lead in the National Football League, meet Sunday in a vital game that could drop the loser out of the race.

If Charley Johnson and the youthful Cardinals knock off the Browns for the second time in three weeks, they should go on to at least a tie for the Eastern crown. Only Philadelphia and Dallas will remain in their path.

It is a "must" game for the Browns who finish their schedule on the road at St. Louis, Detroit and Washington.

New York and Pittsburgh figure to keep on winning until their showdown game Dec. 15, the last day of the regular season. The Steelers are only one game back of the Giants, Cards and Browns.

With Green Bay idle after tying Detroit Thanksgiving Day, the Chicago Bears can't afford to falter against the Minnesota Vikings, a team they thumped 28-7 in September.

The American Football League will be playing the games scheduled last weekend postponed out of respect to the memory of President Kennedy.

The big one is Houston at San Diego which could be a preview of the title game.

With a 71-38-5 record for the year, here we go into the last three weeks of the season. All games are to be played Sunday.

St. Louis 24, Cleveland 20 — If the Cards can shake their home jinx, Wally Lemm's boys should win their third straight from the top contenders. The Cards won Nov. 17, 20-14.

New York 35, Dallas 21 — Giants make Cowboys pay for upset by Cardinals with Y. A. Tittle gunning for all-time records. It took second half comeback for Giants to win first meeting 37-21 but Cowboy defense has given up 38 touchdowns.

Pittsburgh 31, Philadelphia 14 — Steelers get even for opening day 21-21 tie with Eagles that may cost them the title.

Chicago 24, Minnesota 7 — Vikings will find Bears' defense just as tough as Packers. Only 49ers and Lions ahead for Bears.

Baltimore 24, Washington 14 — A passing duel between Johnny Unitas and young Norm Snead who has been coming on strong.

Los Angeles 28, San Francisco 21 — Rams have won four of their last six and should handle 49ers on superior defense on passing of Roman Gabriel.

San Diego 24, Houston 7 — Chargers are rolling on way to clinching Western Division title. pack too much offense in Tobin Rote, Keith Lincoln and Paul

St. Louis Hawks Take Over First

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

St. Louis has taken over first place in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association, but the Cincinnati Royals are having difficulty making any headway in the Eastern sector.

The Hawks moved one-half game in front of idle Los Angeles by downing Detroit 118-101 Thursday night. At the same time, the Royals made the most of the talents of Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas for a 125-110 triumph over Philadelphia in the only other game scheduled.

It was the Royals' fourth straight victory and sixth in eight games. Still, they are 3½ lengths behind pacesetter Boston, which has lost only one of 14 games.

Robertson took care of most of the scoring, with 38 points, and contributed 16 assists, while Lucas almost single-handedly dominated the backboards for the Royals. He pulled down 11 rebounds and also clipped in 21 points.

Boston 27, Buffalo 21 — Both teams still in Eastern race. Give it to Patriots on defense.

New York 28, Kansas City 21 — The 1962 champs have come upon evil days while Jets still are giving it the big hustle with a chance to win fans at home.
